Olga was a delight to work with and presented complex content in simple terms so that everyone could understand. She was fun, energetic, relevant, and knew how to adjust her presentation to the audience. Olga was hired to run a marketing webinar for college students, it was well attended, they were engaged and gave great feedback. I highly recommend working with her, as she continues to present unique approaches to Entrepreneurship and business concepts!

I recently interviewed Olga Mizrahi on my podcast show, The Entrepreneur Way. She brought energy and excitement! Mizrahi is a gig economy and branding expert who supplied a bunch of first class tips and information that are definitely very helpful for other business owners and freelancers. I am so delighted I invited Olga on my podcast show - she is unquestionably an entrepreneur who over-delivers.

We were so excited to have a gig economy and marketing expert at Alpha Chi Omega's 2016 national convention for collegians and alumnae. Olga energized her session attendees by providing interactive tips and to-dos about how to succeed in today's challenging, new, freelance-focused environment. She was one of our top-rated speakers, with one attendee stating, "would love to see more from Olga! Excellent speaker with practical applications."

A great speaker, a published author and a believer in best vs. better, Olga would be a best next keynote speaker choice for your upcoming event, or a consultant for growing your business.
Olga spoke to our Long Beach (California) Area Chamber of Commerce Women's Business Council Roundtable meeting recently. Beyond making sure the many varieties of industries represented at the roundtable could walk away with sound marketing ideas, Olga walked us (fingered us) through the relatively new, hot social media platform, Snapchat.

Education to execution. Great stuff.

Looking for an outstanding business guide? A person who can steer you through today's "business white water"? Olga is that person. She's insightful, intelligent, and inquisitive...and always looks for ways to pay it forward. Best of all, she suggests mutually beneficial, win-win options for both sides. If you want to learn more about Olga, all you have to do is read her new book Sell Local, Think Global.

Olga's impact is immediate. Within minutes of my first call with her she had relevant, valuable, practical, simple & actionable suggestions for what needed to happen next for my business growth. Her casual but seasoned insights came from her understanding of me, not from her parroting templated responses or solutions. Olga is someone who cares and that shows up immediately. I've been in media, marketing & advertising for 25+ yrs. Olga's the real deal. If you're a company owner or chief executive looking to grow - look to Olga.

Olga brings a spark to every conversation and presentation she delivers. She has a way of getting her point across in a no nonsense clear precise way. She has you thinking outside the box and inspires and motivates you to see the potential in every situation and yourself. The presentation she delivered to the California Women's Conference 2012 was well received and earned great applause. Her wisdom never fails to provide relevant information and because of her clarity, she helps others see their potential. I am proud to know Olga. She adds value to any conference or speaking event.

Olga was hired to work with the Marketplace Merchants Association. I was apart of the board at this time and we were looking to create a new look for the website and find more ways to promote the center. Olga and her company did an outstanding job on the new website and created awesome print work for us as well. I would recommend her to anyone.

Olga is an exceptionally knowledgeable, innovative, creative, dynamic and personable e-commerce executive who has achieved incredible results for us in our professional business endeavors in two worlds. When I was CEO of Promedica CME, ohso! design oversaw a re-branding effort that extended from print to online. Among other things, ohso! design set up a business blog for us back when it was unheard of as a business strategy.

Now I'm pleased to announce Olga's at it again, branding an upcoming major event in support of Susan G Komen for the Cure of breast cancer, Standup-For-The-Cure.org"

I invited Olga into a favorite client of ours, Dole Foods. Olga worked directly with the CEO's office to clarify marketing objectives and align them with the vendor's scope of work. As a result she saved the client significant marketing dollars, published a new website and improved the vendor client relationship. The client was thrilled with the outcome. From evaluating their web project to getting them back on track, Olga's expertise really shined through. I recommend OhSo! Design for all your eMarketing needs.

Worked with Olga and her team on various projects. Olga is very passionate about what she does and it showed in the end product. Most importantly, she took the time to work in partnership with cross-functional teams and explained goals and objectives in meaningful fashion. Olga articulates challenges clearly and provides relevance to stakeholders and non-stakeholders alike.

Working with Olga was inspiring. In the two years that I worked with her at CBA Media Marketing, I was able to see her concepts come to life through the development of a retail web site entirely from scratch. With a very slim team, she built doctorstrust.com into a competitive retail environment that was eventually bought by the industry leader Puritan's Pride. At the same time, she managed the online presence for the company's life insurance business... and pursued her Master's degree! Olga was a natural leader through her guidance, patience and support and was well-respected by her employees and co-workers. If the opportunity were to come up, I would not hesitate to work with Olga again.

Working with OhSo! has been a fantastic experience for Sunnyland Pictures, and Olga's attention to detail and professionalism is unmatched by anyone we've worked with to date. Her creative ideas and consistent assistance in helping to grow our business have gone far beyond the call of duty. I've seen first hand what putting trust in her skills and talent can do for a company, and I would highly recommend any business, small or large, new or old, to OhSo! She does it all - websites, marketing, print - and she does it all very well.

Olga created a one of a kind promotional piece for Sunnyland Pictures which has been very well received by our clients and has generated interest in our services. The piece is a 12 page color brochure which tells our story and presents our services in a very unique way. It also has a place to hold our Demo Reel CD, a built in folder for our sales materials, and a place to hold our business card. It looks like nothing else I've ever seen in print and we absolutely love it.

Olga served as the VP of eCommerce Strategy at Venture Commerce when I was there and I reported to her. Olga's creative edge and ability to think outside of the box helped me do my job in a very efficient way. We worked with high profile clients such as Splendid, William Rast and People's Liberation, managing their websites and online brand images. Olga's ability to organize and streamline processes made our company run more smoothly and effectively. It's usually intimidating to speak with your boss about client issues and such, but Olga was very gracious and patient with me as I learned how to manage issues and tasks. I think Olga
